Today'sMeet (https://todaysmeet.com/)

Use a backchannel to encourage student reflection and gather feedback during class presentations.

1.

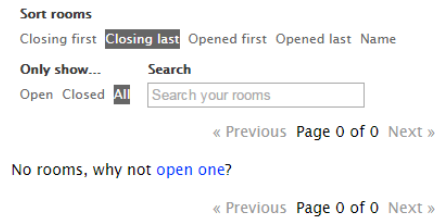

Create a free account or just get started by naming a room and a time frame.

The screenshot shows the Today'sMeet homepage. At the top right, there are links for 'Log in' and 'Create an account'. Below the logo, there is a red button that says 'Ready? Get started right now'. Underneath this button is a form with a 'Pick a name' input field containing 'MyRoom', a 'Keep the room open for' dropdown menu set to 'one week', and an 'Open your room' button. Blue arrows point from the text on the right to the 'Create an account' button and the 'Open your room' button.

If you create an account, you can keep a record of the discussion.

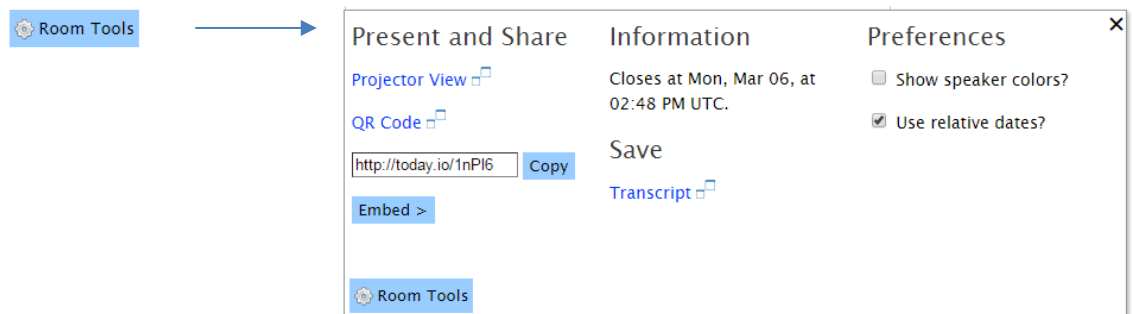

Your rooms

The screenshot shows the 'Your rooms' page. It has a 'Sort rooms' section with options: 'Closing first', 'Closing last' (selected), 'Opened first', and 'Opened last'. Below that is an 'Only show...' section with 'Open', 'Closed', and 'All' (selected) options. There is a search bar with the text 'Search your rooms'. At the bottom, it says 'No rooms, why not open one?' and has navigation links: '« Previous Page 0 of 0 Next »'.

2.

You can share your room with others using a QR code, URL, or embed code. Just click on the Room Tools button for options.

The screenshot shows the 'Room Tools' menu. It is divided into three sections: 'Present and Share', 'Information', and 'Preferences'. Under 'Present and Share', there are links for 'Projector View', 'QR Code', a URL input field containing 'http://today.io/1nPI6' with a 'Copy' button, and an 'Embed >' button. Under 'Information', there is a 'Save' button and a 'Transcript' link. Under 'Preferences', there are two checkboxes: 'Show speaker colors?' (unchecked) and 'Use relative dates?' (checked). A 'Room Tools' button is also visible at the bottom left of the menu.

Use the discussion as a way to check student understanding or periodically check for questions from your audience.
